Dear Jane,

CONFIDENTIAL

Re: INTELLIGENCE STAT

I have looked over the hat thouroughly and especially covered the four confidential policies issued in February regarding the Guardian's Office and particularly Intelligence and PRO.

I feel the following quotes from the PL's bear some weight on what the product of Intelligence is

HCO POL LETTER 16 Feb 1969 Confidential ENEMY NAMES
"By carefully watching press to see who is called upon by the press for counter-opinions, one can work one's way easily toward the centre of any hostile network."

IBID
"We happen to be fortunate, if you call it that, that persons hostile to Scientology usually have criminal backgrounds even when in public life. One doesn't always find these even when they exist but one at least finds connections which are useful."

IBID
"Use 'counter opinion' names as investigation subjects, find their terrain, find the crimes on it and attack on _that_ terrain and the enemy, not ourselves, will be in trouble.

HCO POL LETTER 16 Feb 1969 Issue II Confidential BATTLE TACTICS
"Intelligence identifies targets and finds out enemy plans and purposes, enemy connections, dispositions, etc. It is fatal to attack a wrong enemy. But it is good tactics to make the enemy attack wrong targets or persons himself."

IBID
"Good intelligence pinpoints who when where what."

HCO POL LETTER 16 Feb 1969 Issue III Confidential ENEMY PROs
"You will find in looking over press clippings that certain persons called by the press to give an anti-Scn opinion give a deft and expert twist to their answers SO AS TO RE-EXPRESS THEIR CURRENT PARTY LINE."

IBID
"These people are nobody in themselves. But they lead back to key organizations and these lead back to key figures highly placed. When you have these you are in business."

Also I return to the first policy mentioned 16 Feb 69 Enemy Names for a final quote:

"Thus by studying clippings you can find who has given them hostile data earlier or to whom they are referred for hostile data.

"By taking these hostile names, one can do a rundown on the person or his connections or both.

"As there are actually very few of these names they thereby (cross filing) lead one to common denominators and one can locate attack sources."

Then I assessed which type of report brought in the most G.I.'s - One which gave enemy connections.

What type of order did I get most frequently --
Get the connections.

What type of order did I give most frequently --
Get the connections.

So the first stat for Intelligence is Enemy Connections.

I realize that this type of stat could pull you off rimes angle so I've included a second stat as well.

Definitions are as follows:

Enemy Connections -- Any social, professional, or familial ties found to exist between two members of recognized enemy groups, i.e. Psychiatric front groups, finance, news media, government, aristocracy. This would also include connections found to exist between someone under investigation or of interest to Intelligence and a recognized enemy group. Ex Joe Blotz reporter for the daily Mail has written a book for the NAMH equals one connection or an enemy pro is spotted through a newspaper article and he is looked up and found connected to WFMH bang one connection. Anyway that's the outline the main Stat of Intell being CONNECTIONS in keeping with the 16 Feb 69 series of policy letters.

Enemy Incidents -- As per quote 5 "Good Intelligence gets who when where what." This stat would be any incident of a criminal or scandalous nature, involving the enemy, any incident of the enemy advocating or promoting criminal or scandalous behaviour, any incident of libel or slander against the church done or promoted by an enemy, and any incident or evidence of a conspiracy against the church or any future planned attack or programme against the Church or society, giving exact who what where and when, documented in such a way as to be of use to PR Chief and/or Legal in attacking the enemy. This also clarifies the situation as to what a usable report is, i.e. any report that gives enemy connections or incidents as per the above. Attached is the ED which is much terser and I will include a dispatch that gives the above definitions when I send it to other B2's.
