"When we were attacked in January for using E-Meters I adopted for us a two part policy:

1. To hold the line legally and win in courts where possible but in no event to lose ground;
2. To speed up research by passing clear and theta clear as objectives, abandoning work on the technology that gave interim states and concentration on the attainment by auditing the state of O.T. as the best forward answer to our difficulties."

"We now have O.T. in direct and real sight with only a few hundred hours of actual skilled auditing intervening. This is an astonishing break through, a real by-the-boot-straps necessity level research sprint.

We are then only months away from having O.T.s, a year at the most.

No Scientologist need be told what that means.

This fact enters us upon forward planning. The trouble with O.T.s in the past has only been lack of cooperation and a commonly agreed upon objective. Without these O.T.s eventually fall prey again to smaller beings with bigger organization skill, O.T. is an unstable state only when O.T.s are not cooperating with O.T.s but each one going his own way in the strong but fatuous belief he can single-handedly survive. The proof is, O.T.s have not survived as O.T.s whenever this super individuation collided with the super organization of weaker beings. The answer is to remain organized, with mutual assistance and integrity and not lose touch with or responsibility for all levels of life forms and societies.

"I recommend that any action taken by any O.T. on this planet be guided by the attached programme "An International Objective". Any public ambitions for us or Earth, any vengeful or destructive urges, any stunts or public actions should be channeled into accomplishing the attached programme."
