VALENCES

BTs and clusters go out of valence. They can go into the valence of a person or animal, some BTs go into the valence of molecules, minerals as well as cells. Some go into the valence of objects. There's a trick of getting them to shift valence. You find out what it is out of valence into and indicate it - this is done by simply asking them what they are. Having found out what he or they have gone into the valence of, you acknowledge it and ask them who they are and they generally blow off.

Psychologists have an operation going of:

- (a) convincing people they are a brain (because they think),
- (b) convincing people they're an animal (meaning they have no soul).

This sticks BTs and clusters into the head (brain), and into the body, and invalidates that they are a being. So it pins the BTs and clusters in, into the body, (And if you ran on a psychologist, "you're a brain", "you're an animal", it would cave the psychologist in, because he has so many overts of doing this to others.)

On the time track BTs were lied to and told they were being built into a body - they have nothing to do with the body track at all, except to sit in or on the body. They had "model forms" and BTs were made to assume "model forms". It's another valence trick - they're in the valence of a body, or part of a body, such as "torso", "brain", "arm", etc. These aren't vicious in attitude, they are benign but misguided. They feel they are necessary to the body. They are sometimes stuck on the external perimeter of the body, 2 - 3 feet out from the body, surrounding it.

They are in the valence of something. They consider these safe valences or safe beingnesses. What does a BT consider safe to be in? It is one of the systems of "being in", protected and defended - be in the valence of something.

There's also a scarcity of forms, and a being becomes a form. They can also be a significance, and try to be in a form.

They can be a picture, or an unsafe picture - to remind one that "nothing is safe, because one might forget". So a BT can be a picture, or part of a picture, or he can be being a ridge, or being a problem, etc. A BT can be in the valence of anything at all.

There are actually five steps to shifting valence - you find out what valence the BT is being and acknowledge it and ask "who he is?" - he will usually cognite "I'm me", and blow.

BTs think they are pictures, things, beings, body parts, objects, significances, somatics - they can be anything at all. If that is realized, they will tell the Pre-OT what they are and blow. The basic misconception when handled, flips them into own valence, and they blow - sometimes disintegrating explosively - with a succession of "I'm me", "I'm me", "I'm me"....sometimes they go out several hundred feet and explode violently.

If the Pre-OT asks "What are you?" they'll answer up "I'm (valence)" , and then realize they're not (valence) . There's another action of acknowledgement - maybe nobody has ever acked these beingnesses - because they're so bizarre, so far out. You must acknowledge what the BT or cluster tells you they are. You're flipping them out of obsessive beingness or a misconceived area.

The full steps of shifting their valence:

- (1) Pre-OT asks "What are you?"
- (2) BT or cluster answers "I'm (valence)".
- (3) Pre-OT acknowledges BT or cluster.
- (4) BT or cluster realizes they're not (valence) , and blows, or
- (5) Pre-OT asks "Who are you?" and BT or cluster realizes and normally says "I'm me" and blows and sometimes it's a highly multiple blow.
- (6) If they repeat what they just said ask "What were you before you became that?" , they say "me" and blow.

(If you don't acknowledge BT's answer after "What are you?", the second question - "Who are you" - tends to be invalidative.)

If they don't answer, you're talking to an energy mass and not a BT or they're really dead; there's one trick - tell them to go earlier, and if it's a ridge, go behind the ridge and you'll get them.

If they don't answer what they are - persist, say "Good" and ask "Well, who are you?" and they won't persist in their chatter, they'll go silent and probably answer "I'm me" and blow.

Most of the time you don't have to do anything though, just look-and they blow.

DIFFERENT RESPONSES

Blowing BTs and clusters by this Valence Technique is almost the basic rundown - it is the hottest technique there is. There are only three situations under which it does not work at once. These are:

- (A) When you don't get an answer.
- (B) They give you a significance or identity in answer to the Who are you? question.

(C) The criminal type.

(A) When you don't get an answer:

If you don't get an answer, you may be talking to simply an energy mass put out by some other BT or cluster, or they are really dead, then tell it to go a little bit earlier, jolt it a little bit earlier with an intention or impulse and then it will run on through and blow.

But if it's a ridge, being put out by some other BT or cluster, just look behind the ridge and address your actions to the BT or cluster behind the ridge and then you'll get an answer.

(B) They give you a significance or identity answer:

If you ask "Who are you?" and get an answer which is an identity such as: "George Smith", or "Willy the Red"; you simply acknowledge that answer and ask "Who are you?" again. Sometimes you may have to run back down the track through a whole chain of past identities, but if you persist the BT or cluster will eventually realize and say "I'm me" and blow.

(C) The Criminal types:

These may give a criminal response: "Yah, yah, I'm your nemesis, I'm going to eat you up, that's what I am" - it can get very confused because your next question is "Who are you?" and they're kind of telling you who they are. They haven't answered the auditing question of what they are, they can't conceive of it - they're "a demon" or something, whatever they think they are. However if you persist, "Good" you say, "Who are you?" You don't persist in asking the "What they are?", ignore the chatter, just say "Good" and ask "Who are you?" and they quite commonly don't go on with that performance - they simply go silent and they say "I'm me" and they blow.

NULLS

BTs and clusters who are so dead and unresponsive that you can't get any response from them at all, no response, can be woken up by having the Pre-OT run "Hellos and OKs" on them. This will put them into communication and they can then be handled with the Valence questions.

Generally they're very fluent and quite easy to handle, though. Probably what makes a preclear as a whole hard to audit at lower levels, is that you're auditing all of these misconceptions simultaneously. But on NED for OTs you will find the majority of BTs and clusters easy to handle and blow. Many of them simply blow on inspection, and the basic usual technique for blowing the rest of them is the Valence Technique.

VALENCE TECHNIQUE

1. "What are you?"
2. (answer)
3. Acknowledge
4. Realize it isn't (_____), and blows, or
5. "Who are you?" - "I'm me", and blows.
6. If they repeat what they just said ask "What were you before you became that?", they say "me" and blow.

Those steps above are the basic and most workable technique. If the Pre-Ot realizes that a BT or cluster can be being anything - anything at all - and accepts the BT's or cluster's answer and acknowledges that answer, this technique will work very smoothly and well.
